Cantor's Corner...

Notes From the Cantor

*See the Conquering Hero Comes! Sound the trumpet! Beat the drums! *Borekh Ateh Zingt Der Tate... *Lichvod haChanukah *Lo v'Hayil v'lo v'Khoah but by my spirit saith the Lord of Hosts. Then there is also the lesser well known 18th Century Benedetto Marcello melody to *Maoz Tzur. These are all titles to beautiful song settings that are every bit as uplifting as what our neighbors of a different faith sing and hear during a month that sometimes aligns with our month of Kisley and sometimes doesn't.

So why are the above mentioned with maybe the exception of Handel's Judas Maccabeeus melody, the lesser well known Hanukkah songs? Don't get me wrong. I love *Hanukkah O Hanukkah, which I learned first in Yiddish as a child, the more popular German *Rock of Ages tune, *Sevivon, *Who Can Retell, *Debbie Friedman's Not By Might as well as her *I'm a *Light One Candle, and, of Latke, Peter Yarrow's course, Flory Jagoda's *Ocho Kandelikas. These songs are all staples and it would not be Hanukkah without them. However, the more sublime melodies also deserve to be used, heard, and sung during our Festival of Lights.

Cantor's Corner...

There are, perhaps, a couple of reasons why prettier Hanukkah songs are less well known. For one thing, when Christians celebrate Christmas, they are celebrating one of their main holidays and therefore "pull out all the stops." On the Jewish calendar, we have the High Holy Days when our deepest emotions are trotted out, then the Three Pilgrimage Festivals---Sukkot, Passover, and Shavuot, after which Hanukkah and Purim both fall into the category of "They tried to kill or assimilate us. We won. Let's eat." Then, don't forget, we also have Tu Bishvat, Lag BaOmer, and a bunch of other observance days, some happy some sad.

Another reason for why prettier Hanukkah songs are less well known, might be the joy we bestow upon the children (and adults) of our community with latkes, jelly doughnuts, menorahs, and presents, and the fact that we are celebrating a historical conflict. The joy wins out, as it should. The joy should also include songs like the following:

Borukh ate, zingt der tate Un er tsindt di likht. Un di shtraln, milde faln Oyf zayn blas dezikht Un a fayer, heylik, tayer In di oygn laykht. Un der mider, mit di glider Hot zich oysgeglaykht	'Blessed are You' sings father And he lights the candles. Their light falls softly On his pale countenance. A fire, holy, and dear shines in his eyes, And the weary one has straightened His arms and legs.
Un es dakht zikh, un es trakht zich: S'iz noch epes do. S'iz geblibn vos tsu libn Heylik is di sho.	It seems and appears, There is still something here. Something has remained to love, Holy is this hour.
Alte klangen, land fargangen, Neyn, s'klingt nokh atsind. Zing zhe tate, borukh ate, Un ikh blayb dayn kind.	Old sounds long gone No, I hear them still. Sing then, father, 'Blessed Are You' And I remain your child.

Hag Urim Same-ach, A Joyful Festival of Lights-

Cantor Jason Rosenman

From the President...

To My Temple Family,

In my November Message I spoke about the increase of antisemitism in this country, hatred that continues to intensify as seen in the defacing of synagogues around the country, pro-Palestinian demonstrations on college campuses and in large cities, which have at times, become violent. We as a community have resisted such antisemitism by continuing our efforts to function as a cohesive Jewish community, and as part of the larger Jewish community. Such efforts occur each day, as congregants, work to ensure our survival as a synagogue through work on committees, attending Shabbat services, and planning and implementing actions that allow us to continue as a viable synagogue. Our survival is resistance to the hatred around us and demonstrates a desire and ability to speak out against hatred. Some of those activities are summarized below.

During the past month our new Activities Committee has been meeting and developing ideas for possible programing for us. By now you should have received information concerning our Chanukah Party to be held on 12/10/2023. If you are planning to attend this program, please make sure your RSVP is in to the TSS office no later than 12/07/2023. As this committee continues its work you will receive information concerning future activities and programs.

Our Rabbi Search Committee has continued its work and recently began the interview process with a potential Rabbinical candidate. As this process continues the committee will keep us informed of its progress.

The Board of Trustees passed a resolution last month to continue Cantor Rosenman on a full-time basis through the end of June 2024. This was done to ensure that we will be able to maintain continuity of clerical services while we continue to seek a part-time rabbi.

As we continue to monitor the situation in Israel, please note that we, as a synagogue, have found ways to support our Israeli family by making donations to Jewish Federation Metro West Israel Fund, to Magen David Adom, placing "Stand with Israel signs" on our lawns, and wearing blue ribbons in support of Israel (available in TSS office). I urge you to continue to demonstrate your support for Israel and to remember the hostages still being held by Hamas in your thoughts and prayers.

The Springfield Community Chanukah Menorah Lighting is scheduled for 12/07/2023 at Veteran Park (corner of Shunpike Road & Mountain Avenue). I urge you to attend to show your support for the Springfield Jewish Community, and to join with and support Jews throughout the world.

Our efforts are allowing us to continue as a synagogue, to support our Jewish community, and to resist antisemitism. It is my hope that our actions will help our Jewish Community to survive and grow.

L'shalom,

Bill

How to Light A Channukiah:

Step 1: Know Your Timing You're supposed to light the menorah just after dark each night of Chanukah. (However, many families wait until everyone is home together, and light it then.) On Fridays, the menorah is lit before dark to avoid lighting on Shabbat.

Step 2: Find Its Spot The menorah is meant to spread light to others and is traditionally placed in a window, on a table or outside your door. (Just make sure it is far from active kids and flammable materials.)

Step 3: Light the Shamash The candle that is raised or in the center of the menorah is the shamash(helper candle). It's the one you use to light the other candles. Light it first. (Don't use any of the other candles to light the others.)

Step 4: Say the Chanukah Blessing You recite the Chanukah blessing now, once the shamash is lit but before you light any other candles.

- 1. Ba-ruch A-tah Ado-nai E-lo-he-nu Me-lech ha-olam a-sher ki-de-sha-nu be-mitz-vo-tav ve-tzi-va-nu le-had-lik ner Cha -nu-kah.
- 2. Ba-ruch A-tah Ado-nai E-lo-he-nu Me-lech Ha-olam she-asa ni-sim la-avo-te-nu ba-ya-mim ha-hem bi-zman ha-zeh.
- 3. Ba-ruch A-tah Ado-nai E-lo-he-nu Me-lech Ha-olam sheheche-ya-nu ve-ki-yi-ma-nu ve-higi-a-nu liz-man ha-zeh.

Translation:

- 1. Blessed are You, Adonai, who has sanctified us with commandments, and commanded us to kindle the Chanukah light.
- 2. Blessed are You, Adonai, who performed miracles for our forefathers in those days, at this time.
- 3. Blessed are You, Adonai, who has granted us life, sustained us, and enabled us to reach this occasion.

Step 5: Light Right to Left, but Left to Right There are eight candles to light. On the first night of Chanukah, place a candle in the holder on the far right, and light it with the shamash. Then put the shamash back in its spot (leaving it lit). On the second night, light the candle second from the right, then the candle on the far right, and replace the lit shamash. You'll repeat this pattern for each night of Chanukah, always lighting the newest candle first. On the eighth night, you'll be lighting all of the candles, starting at the far left.

Questions and answers: How to light your Channukiah correctly?

More than any other holiday, there is a consensus about how Jews around the world celebrate Chanukah- candle lighting at home after sunset. But even according to Halachah, Jewish law, there is a range of opinions on the how, who, what and where of the lighting. Traditionally, Judaism defines the purpose of lighting the candles as symbolic for publicizing the miracle of Chanukah. How we publicize that miracle- through Channukiot and beautiful candles is purely personal, intended to "hiddur" enhance the mitzvah

Here are some of the most frequently asked questions and their answers:

1) How do we put candles into the Channukiah?

Candles are put into the Channukiah right to left with a new candle added each night and lit from left to right. There is an argument in the Talmud between the schools of Hillel and Shammai about how the candles are lit and the decision, from the school of Hillel, states "May all your turns be towards the right" just as putting the right foot forward signifies getting off to a good start.

2) Do the candles need to be multicolored?

No! Traditionally the lights were pure olive oil with a wax wick. Wax candles became popular in the 19th century because of their steady light and the color was added in the 20th century. You can use whatever type of light you wish as long as it makes the mitzvah of the lighting more beautiful.

3) Should we have a Channukiah for each member of the family?

Until the late Middle Ages there were no special Channukiot. People would use whatever they would use to make light in their homes. Today, the more Channukiot the better. Channukiot can be homemade by members of the family or bought.

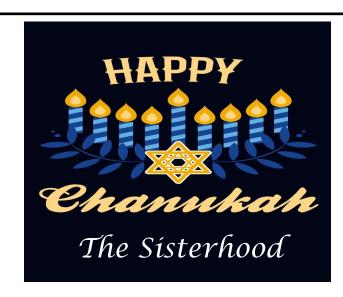

4) What happens if the candles go out?

If the Channukiah candles go out immediately when they are lit, they should be relit. If, after the blessings and any additional songs, the candles go out, it is not necessary to relight them.

5) If I leave the house, may I extinguish the candles?

Personal safety takes precedence over performing any mitzvah. Ideally one should let the candles burn for 30 minutes, afterwards, one may intentionally extinguish them for any reason.

Sisterhood along with the help of congregants were able to donate $1,700 to Magen David Adom. This donation was doubled through the generosity of Bloomberg.

Sisterhood also received some donations after the deadline for the match and thus made a donation of $50 to the Jewish Federation Israel Emergency Fund.

We thank all you who sent in donations.
