Shabbat Study Minyan Weekly - 11:00 am

From the Rabbi...

It's About the People

Shalom!

If we haven't met, I'm Rav Uri Allen, your new Rabbi at Temple Sha'arey Shalom. I am so glad to be on board at TSS and I can't wait to see what wonderful things we can do together. Of course we will worship together, and eat (of course), study our tradition, help our communities and the world, connect with our beloved Israel and the Jewish people. These are our commitments as a kehila kedosha - a sacred community, and they remain our guiding light moving forward.

We find ourselves in the Torah reading cycle at the several parshas that outline in great detail the building of the mishkan (tabernacle) and the vestments of the High Priest. For chapters and chapters we have measurements, and fabric lists, and crafting instructions. One could get the impression that it is the items themselves, the physical components of sacred space, that are the most important. And there is a certain logic to that. Without the necessary equipment the Tabernacle won't work. It can't function properly.

But we would be remiss if we didn't state clearly that the point of the Tabernacle, the object of sacred space, is not to simply build the space but to use it for spiritual fulfillment, growth, and commitment to God, Torah, and Israel. In other words it's the people that matter the most, not the building of the stuff.

Fortunately, we have the items that we need. We have a meeting space, we have our Torah scrolls and siddurim, we have the office space we need, the tech we need, and the leadership to run a synagogue. But all of those things pale in comparison to your presence and personal engagement with our Temple. To that end, I want to encourage you to attend Friday night services, learn with me and Cantor Rosenman, volunteer for a committee or to plan an event. Whichever way to choose to be involved don't let our physical space be a replacement for your active presence and participation.

As your new Rabbi, I will be dedicated to meeting each of you and growing that personal connection. This is what it is all about. In Hebrew we call a synagogue a beit kneset - literally, a house of gathering. If there are no people to gather the house is of no significance. In the coming weeks you will see an invitation from me to schedule some time together for coffee or a chat (you will be able to schedule on your own through a website called Calendly). I will also be teaching a weekly class called A Partner in Holiness - R' Levi Yitzchak of Berditchev. We will explore the thoughts of this Hasidic master and investigate ways in which we can incorporate these teachings into our life. That will take place weekly on Wednesdays at 10am in-person and on Zoom. I look forward to learning with you.

I am excited for this relationship to get going in earnest and to deepen it over time to sustain and maybe even grow our community. May we be blessed as we go on our way...may this be our blessing, Amen.

Rav Uri Allen

Cantor's Corner...

Notes From the Cantor

Back in November, the world of Jewish music lost another giant. Charles Davidson z"l wrote more than 300 works. Many of them were synagogue pieces, song cycles, operas, musicals, and choral works for all ages.

He was born in Pittsburgh in 1929, and studied at Eastman, C.W. Post College, and Brandeis Art Institute in Santa Susana, CA, where he studied under another great Jewish composer, one Max Helfman, and he was also one of the first to graduate from the Cantorial school at Jewish Theological Seminary. Charles Davidson held many Music Director and conductor positions, and his musical styles included Baroque, Jazz, Blues, and Yiddish folk tunes.

The jazz work, "And David Danced Before the Lord", is titled after a narrative, studied by the Haftarah Class, in II Samuel 6, in which King David has retrieved the Holy Ark from the Philistines and brought it back to Jerusalem and held a public celebration. During this celebration, David dances in a manner deemed by his wife Michal, daughter of Saul, as immodest and vulgar while in front of handmaids of his servants. David defends his dance and the matter remains a source of marital strife between him and Michal. The jazz work was commissioned by Cantor Richard Botton. One of Cantor Botton's students, who would grow up to be the famous comedian Billy Crystal, was so impressed that he requested the work years later at his daughter's Bat Mitzvah, as the work is set to the liturgy of the Friday night service. Click here for Jazz liturgical excerpts from Charles Davidson's 1966 composition, "And David Danced Before the Lord"

<https://www.milkenarchive.org/music/volumes/view/swing-his-praises/work/and-david-danced-before-the-lord/>

There was also "A Singing of Angels" which incorporated Yiddish folk melodies and scenes of East European Jewish life sung in English by a children's choir. This was commissioned by the Beth Abraham Youth Chorale and also the Beth El congregation, both in Ohio. Find an excerpt here.

https://youtu.be/zPXDwYoHa5Q?si=O3UwZ_9L5iV6s9rx

Charles Davidson's "Baroque Suite" was inspired by the golden age of Spanish Hebrew poetry from the 11th and 12th centuries, most notably by Yehudah HaLevi, whose poetry and its impact on Jewish music were the subject of my thesis at Hebrew Union College. "Baroque Suite" is rendered in music reminiscent of 17th century dance suites in styles known as courante, sarabande, minuet, and fugue. Hear an excerpt here.

https://youtu.be/_57WlfOpSok

Other works by Charles Davidson include a Selichot service called "The Hush of Midnight", "L'David Mizmor", "Libi Mizrach", "Night of Broken Glass" "The Trial of Anatole Sharansky", "Amud HaEish", and others including a couple of operas based on the stories of Isaac Bashevis Singer.

Davidson's most well known work was "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" based on children's poetry from the Theresienstadt concentration camp. This work has been performed all over the world including the White House, the Vatican, and also in the town of Terezin itself hosted by Czech President Vaclav Havel on the 50th anniversary of the camp's creation. A full performance can be accessed here.

The music of Charles Davidson (1929-2023) has enriched our vast treasure trove of Jewish music.

Cantor Jason M. Rosenman

From the President...

Rabbi Uri Allen will be joining our Temple Sha'arey Shalom Family as our Rabbi, effective February 1, 2024. I believe we were truly fortunate to have met, interviewed, and selected Rabbi Allen. He comes to us with many years of experience as a congregational rabbi, and as a teacher of Judaic studies. Most recently, he has served as Rabbi of Congregation Beth Mordecai, Perth Amboy, NJ. Rabbi Allen's teaching experience includes providing instruction in Judaic studies to high school students, and adult learners. Rabbi has completed Judaic studies programs at University of Maryland; The Conservative Yeshiva, Jerusalem, Israel; Shalom Hartman Institute/Tel-Aviv University, Jerusalem, Israel; and the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies, American Jewish University, Los Angeles, CA. Welcome to the Family, Rabbi Allen.

TSS' Ner Tamid has been returned to us, and will soon be installed above our Ark. The Ner Tamid, which hung in our former home was donated to a newly founded synagogue when we sold our former building. Recently, we were notified that the recipient synagogue was closing, and the Ner Tamid was to be returned to us. We are in the process of working with an electrician to install it over our Ark.

As you know our Activities Committee has been busy developing programs, and is offering an opportunity, for us, to attend a musical comedy, Murders of 1940, at the Cranford Theatre, on February 18. If you are interested in joining this activity, please RSVP to the Temple Office as soon as possible. The committee is exploring other program offerings and will notify you as soon as plans are finalized.

Sisterhood has planned and is offering a program on March 10, for Sisterhood members featuring a medium.

The Social Action Committee is in the process of researching and developing opportunities for us to be involved with important social action activities in the local community. As these opportunities become available, the committee will so notify you.

It appears that our little congregation is vibrant because we have dedicated and hard-working fellow congregants. We can show our appreciation for their efforts by attending these activities.

L'shalom,

Bill

An ingenious and wildly comic romp by playwright John Bishop, Poking antic fun at the more ridiculous aspects of "show biz" and the corny thrillers of Hollywood's heyday, the play is a non-stop barrage of laughter as those assembled (or at least those who aren't killed off) untangle the mystery of the "Stage Door Slasher."

Israeli Folk, Popular, and Art Song

An Adult Ed Class by

Cantor Jason Rosenman

Thursday's at 7:00 pm

In Person and on Zoom

This class will explore the songs that have been sung in Israel over the past 75 years in both times of joy and times of sadness. It will also include the history behind the words and how some songs have the words or melody varied over time as impacted by historical events. It will include Israeli music in the folk, art, and popular genres.

Designated Funds Form

Through the centuries, Jews have maintained the custom of commemorating occasions of joy and sorrow by making special contributions to their temples. Contributions may be made announcing joyous events, in honor of special occasions, in memory of the departed, or as an expression of sympathy or gratitude. Temple Sha'arey Shalom has established several funds for this purpose. As many congregants may be unaware of the various funds, we have listed them for your guidance.

Payments can be made by Check (made payable to "Temple Sha'arey Shalom" not the individual fund name), by Zelle to: scroll@shaarey.org, and also by cash, and mailed to the Temple office.
